

Lunch & Learn: Franklin Covey's Leading at the Speed of Trust®
BES067

Hours :    In Class   2                      Clinical   0                      Total   2

Description

Trust is an economic driver and always impacts two measurable outcomes: speed and cost. Like a ripple in a pond, trust begins with you. Where there is no trust, relationships decay, projects fail, customer go to competitors, initiatives under-perform, and works grinds to a crawl.

Leaders who attend this lunch (included) & learn will be introduced to the skills which increase personal credibility and specific behaviors that increase trust. As a result, they will be able to better manage change and lead high-performing teams that are agile, collaborative, innovative, and engaged.

About the presenter: Jeff Cleary joined the Covey Leadership Center in 1991 where he served as president of its New Jersey affiliate. Jeff has served a variety of clients in his 15 years with Franklin Covey, including many Fortune 100 and 500 companies. His experience spans industries including oil and gas, pharmaceutical, communications, and investment banking, as well as large and small IT firms. He has worked with the military, state, and federal government agencies, and a number of nonprofit organizations.

Learning Objectives

1. Help leaders increase their personal credibility and practice specific behaviors that increase trust and improve organizational trust.
2. Create a measurable of hight trust.

Teaching Philosophy

We believe that instructors, staff, and administrators have a shared responsibility to provide: 1) innovative course design and instruction; 2) a safe, learner-centered environment; and 3) an authentic learning experience.
